

Bisses d'Ossona and Sevanne

Itinerary

This loop route can be done in both directions. The route described here begins with the route that joins the Bisse de Sevanne and crosses the plateau of the same name. From the P2 car park (Ossova road), follow the direction of Mase, Sevanne, Vernamiège and cross the La Manna torrent which separates the Ossova and Sevanne plateaus. At the second hamlet, the route climbs towards Mase via a wide path and then a path until the start of the Bisse de Sévanne which is signposted «Bisse d'Ossova». The route follows more or less the old bisse de Sevanne until the torrent of La Manna. At the start, the route crosses several paths leading upstream. Always go down. The Ossova bisse begins at the La Manna torrent. Follow the bisse and at the first chalets, go straight down along the forest on a path to reach the starting point.

Very beautiful area and easily accessible also a good part of the winter. Be careful, however, the hours of sunshine and snow. The Ossova road is not served by public transport. What a wonderful place to spend a day between picnic and stroll. The rehabilitation of the Bisse D'Ossova is exemplary and the few renovated raccards that we cross make you want to spend the night.
